

UNCLE SAM MUST PAY IN ADVANCE FOR CABLEGRAMS

Western Union Telegraph Company Wants Cash
for Messages.

By the Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—The long standing controversy between the state department and the Western Union Telegraph company has reached the stage of an open break, the company refusing to handle any further cable messages for the department, except upon prepayment of toll.

The company order was issued on November 10, it was said today at the department ostensibly was to apply to all departments of the government. It was understood however, that messages sent by other departments had been excepted informally from the rule.

The Western Union company is stated to have based its action on the delay by the department in making payment for cables. The department officials asserted today however, that it was in their opinion a step in retaliation for the failure by the department to permit the landing of a cable at Miami, Fla., connecting at Barbadoes with a British cable from South America.

Big Fur Show Coming to Shaw's On Wednesday

On Wednesday of this week Mr. Marks, one of the leading men of the firm of Herman, Ben Marks, furriers of Detroit, will be in Ada with a large display of furs, fur coats, fur sets and fur hats.

Herman, Ben Marks is one of the largest fur houses in North America and the furs Mr. Marks will show all day Wednesday at Shaw's big store will be some of the very best the firm is putting out, including American mink, Alaskan seal and the Hudson baby seal in many designs.

Mr. Shaw has always handled a limited line of this brand of furs but on Wednesday will be seen a wonderful showing direct from the house.

These furs will be marked down at attractive prices.

Eight large trunks are being unpacked today and the big display windows are being decorated for tomorrow's show.

A very special invitation is extended to all the ladies and gentlemen as well.

No need to bother about what to buy for HER this Christmas. Just make it furs.

WARNING!

As a precaution to prevent an impending epidemic of influenza all the water mains in Ada will be flushed tomorrow with carbolic acid. It will be extremely dangerous for anyone to use water fresh from the mains anytime tomorrow or tomorrow night. Water consumers are warned to draw enough water tonight to last them for at least thirty-six hours.

Law May Break Heartstrings Judge Joe to Try Young Lover for Perjury

"Love's arms were wreathed about the neck of Hope, and Hope kissed Love, and Love drew in her breath. In that close kiss and drap her whispered tales. They say that Love would die when Hope was gone. And Love mourn'd long, and sorrow'd after Hope; At last she sought out Memory, and they trod The same old paths where Love had walked with Hope, And Memory fed the soul of Love with tears."

Love, Hope, Memory, Joy, Bliss, Sorrow, Despair and all of the human emotions will hold sway in Justice Joe Anderson's court tomorrow morning when Elmer McCullum

VICE PRESIDENT IN THE CITY TODAY

Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Are Here — He Will Speak at Normal.

Thomas R. Marshall, Vice President of the United States reached Ada at 11:40 this morning, and will speak at the Normal auditorium tonight under auspices of the Redpath Lyceum bureau. The Vice President was accompanied by Mrs. Marshall who is the inseparable companion of her husband in all his travels.

The distinguished guests were met at the Santa Fe depot by a committee of prominent citizens headed by John Smith, president of the Chamber of Commerce, Robert Wimbish, president of the Lions Club, and Mrs. Thomas Hope, president of the Ladies Auxiliary.

The High school cadet band was on hand and played patriotic airs as the committee greeted Mr. and Mrs. Marshall and after a brief exchange of greetings the party drove to the Harris hotel where they were to be the guests of the Lions Club at a specially prepared luncheon.

After the luncheon at the Harris, at which a majority of the members of the Lions Club was present, the crowd assembled in the parlors of the hotel where Mr. Marshall spoke for a half hour on Americanism and the leading topics of the day. He complimented Ada very highly and spoke at length on the great possibilities of this city and locality and on the state of Oklahoma.

Mr. Marshall spoke at Norman last evening and will go from here to Ardmore where he makes an address under the auspices of the chautauqua people under whose direction he is working.

The vice president is hale and hearty and does not show that the strain of the last four years has told materially upon his physical constitution.

The Lions Club of Ada presented the vice president a beautiful bouquet this afternoon, together with an honorary membership in the club.

Shriners Initiate.

MUSKOGEE.—Shriners from Tulsa, Oklahoma City, Sapulpa, McAlester, Okmulgee and many other towns over the state were here today to participate in the ceremonies attending the initiation of more than 300 novices into the Mystic Shrine. More than 2,000 visitors were expected by the committee on arrangements.

is given a hearing on a charge of perjury in the third degree. Hope, Joy and Bliss may be crushed by Sorrow and Despair. As for Love and Memory, we do not know. They are the mysteries that have been handed us by the generations which have passed this way before us, and which we will in turn hand down.

Anyway, Elmer is in trouble, and it's all over love. He was arrested on information filed by James Bolland of Centrahoma, who alleges that McCullum secured a license to marry his daughter, Laura Bolland, by swearing falsely that she was of age, when as a matter of fact she is but sixteen years old.

He is to face Judge Joe. Will the troubled seas come calm, or will the law play havoc with the heartstrings of the young couple? We will see.

HOOVER HELPS PLAN LABOR'S NEW PROGRAM

Surveys the Industrial and Employment Situation.

By the Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—Questions of industrial peace and related problems were discussed today at a conference between leaders of organized labor and Herbert Hoover, former federal food administrator and member of President Wilson's second industrial conference.

Mr. Hoover, who came to the conference of the executive council of the American Federation of Labor at the request of President Gompers, said he had made the trans-continental trip from San Francisco to discuss "the whole industrial and employment situation."

Organized labor's program for the coming year is being framed at the meetings of the executive council. Officials of the federation attending the session, all of which are executive, outline the labor reconstruction policy as follows:

Repeal of existing laws and opposition to proposed laws requiring compulsory arbitration of industrial disputes.

Opposition to laws restricting the right of workers to quit work.

Enactment of legislation placing drastic restrictions upon immigration from all parts of the world, with the most rigid control of that from central and southeastern Europe.

An intensive campaign of Americanization to counteract the influence of political theories not in harmony with the principles underlying the government of the United States.

EFFORT MAY BE MADE TO RESTORE CONSTANTIN

By the Associated Press
PARIS, Nov. 16.—Reports that Venezuela of Greece met defeat in the election Saturday came as an unpleasant surprise to Paris. Newspapers here agree that England and probably France will forbid the return of former King Constantin to Greece. Most writers fear the result of the election if it brings about the fall of Venezuela, which will still further complicate the already difficult situation in the near east.

WILSON SPOKE AT NORMAL TODAY

State Supt. Talks To Large Audience of Teachers and Pupils.

Scarcity of teachers and the increasing number of high schools in Oklahoma have kept down the enrollment in the normal schools of the state, according to State Superintendent R. H. Wilson, who addressed a large audience in the normal auditorium this morning.

"We are often told that our enrollment does not show the increase that the state has a right to expect," said Mr. Wilson. "But a few years ago we had very few high schools in the state and hundreds of students were forced to attend the normal schools in order to get high school instruction. Today we have high schools in all the cities and towns of the state and the class of students who formerly attending instruction nearer home. Moreover, the scarcity of teachers at this time reduces our enrollment by taking hundreds of normal students into the schools who otherwise couldn't get teachers."

"We sometimes hear it said that our normal schools should be combined into one great, central school. Such a suggestion is silly. If all the state schools and church schools of Oklahoma were enrolling nothing but teachers they could not supply the present demand for teachers in the state. While there is a shortage of teachers and we cannot supply the demand for teachers, it is childish to suggest closing any of our schools."

Mr. Wilson referred to the fact that this is the thirteenth birthday of Oklahoma and told of the wonderful advancement in education matters since statehood. School houses have been built in the wilderness

The placing of a charge of murder against Mrs. Richard Peete, housekeeper in the home of Jacob C. Denton, murdered Los Angeles mining man and millionaire, is taken as an indication that the solution of the mystery is near at hand. Denton disappeared June 3. His body was found late in September, buried in a shallow hole under the stairway in the basement of his palatial home. Miss Francis Denton, his daughter, becomes heiress to his fortune. She, her mother and Mrs. Merriman, Denton's sister, are remaining in Los Angeles pending the outcome of the case.

HARDING QUILTS POINT ISABEL

President-Elect To Speak in New Orleans Tomorrow.

By the Associated Press
Brownsville, Nov. 16.—Forced by wind and weather to abandon his vacation at Point Isabel, President-elect Harding turned his attention here today to some of the work that has been piling up during his week of isolation.

He hoped to go out for a game of golf before the day was over, but first he cleared away some of his accumulated correspondence and did some work on the address he is to deliver Thursday in New Orleans. He also received his first callers since he came to Texas, Governor Hobby of this state and Senator Fall of New Mexico being among those with whom he had engagements.

Senator Hobby made the trip here from Austin to extend formally the appreciation of Texas over Mr. Harding's visit, and Senator Fall, who was chairman of the senate sub-committee on Mexican affairs is understood to have discussed border conditions.

Senator and Mrs. Harding came to Brownsville from Point Isabel yesterday and will leave tomorrow for New Orleans where they will go aboard a steamer for Panama.

COTTON FIELDS ARE STILL WHITE

Baw Weather Retards Picking; Other Crops in Fields.

By the Associated Press
OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 16.—The picking of cotton and the harvesting of corn, sorghums and potatoes during the week ending November 13 was generally retarded because of frequent rains, slight freezes and a killing frost, according to the summary of conditions issued here late today by the federal bureau of crop estimates in conjunction with the state department of agriculture. However it was a good week for plowing, the condition of soil being excellent for breaking the report states. In some areas labor scarcity still exists and in other districts schools have temporarily suspended to lend aid in picking the cotton crop.

Wheat sowing is drawing to a close and much early seeded is being pastured, continues the report, the effect of early plowing and sufficient moisture being evident. Much of the crop is being held by the farmers for better prices, according to the summary.

"Frost damage to the corn crop is small and the crop has ripened well," the report states, "while gathering and husking is being pushed. The average yield will be 28 bushels per acre compared with 24 bushels last year, and the quality will be better."

"Oklahoma's cotton crop still lacks a considerable per centage of being all picked, although from the crop already ginned the number of bales will exceed the corresponding period last year," adds the report. "Rains have damaged the grade but the loss in production is still white with lint."

Cane and kafir harvest continues, some farmers using anacogue for heading. The yield of grain sor-

ONLY FORTY-FIVE MILES OF ROADS BUILT IN YEAR

Federal Aid Projects for 1921 To Total Ten Millions.

OKLAHOMA CITY.—Federal aid hard surface highway aggregating more than forty-five miles has been built and put into operation in Oklahoma this year at the cost of approximately $900,000, according to figures prepared yesterday by Robert C. Terrell, state highway engineer. There are eighty-three more miles of road now under contract upon which work will start next spring. Terrell said, and money to be spent on highways next year in Oklahoma will reach nearly $10,000,000, provided from federal and county sources.

Projects which were completed this year, either entirely or in part, Terrell said, are as follows:

Comanche county, two and sixty-eight hundredths miles of concrete road costing $253,500, finished.

Comanche county, two miles of gravel road finished to cost $715,000.

Muskogee county, two and one-half miles of bituminous concrete road costing $84,189, finished.

Muskogee county, seventeen miles of gravel and road finished, being part of a project of thirty-seven miles to cost $408,000.

Ottawa county, about eight miles of bituminous concrete road finished, being part of a project of fifteen and six-tenths miles to cost $328,000.

Tulsa county, seventeen miles of concrete road finished, being part of a project of fiftyfour miles, to cost $1,270,000.

Garfield county, about three miles of concrete road finished, being part of a project of nine miles to cost $368,000.

Construction of bridges to be paid for in part by federal aid money has gone forward during the year. Terrell said, although no new bridges have been finished. Foundations, piers and abutments have been finished for bridges at Calvin, Antlers and in LeFlore county at Hodgens, Shady Point, Wister and Peno. Three spans have been put in on the bridge at Asher and the foundations are nearly finished. A bridge near Enid in Garfield county has been about half completed, and foundations have been started on the bridge between Union City and Minco. Delays in getting steel have been the chief cause of the failure to furnish any bridge this year.

Cholera among hogs is rapidly coming under control, and livestock generally is being benefited by the excellent state of pastures and the abundance of all kinds of feed, concludes the report. One farmer pastured 24 hogs on five acres of corn and peas planted in alternate rows for 40 days and was able to sell $620,000 besides the five head retained for his own use, the report declares.

THE TOWN GOSSIP

IT WAS lying around.
 BACK IN the shop.
 AND SOMEONE brought it.
 INTO MY office.
 AND SAID I ought to have.
 A CUSPIDOR there.
 AND I said at the time.
 I DIDN'T want it.
 AND HAD no use for it.
 AND DIDN'T think.
 IT IMPROVED the appearance.
 OF THE office.
 BUT JUST the same.
 THEY LET it stay there.
 AND FILLED it half full.
 WITH NICE clean water.
 AND PLACED it.
 AT THE edge of my desk.
 AND AFTER a while.
 WHEN WE began to get busy.
 I FORGOT all about it.
 AND STARTED hammering out.
 A PIECE of news.
 ON THE typewriter.
 AND LAID or layed my cigar.
 ON THE edge of the desk.
 AND THREW the typewriter.
 INTO HIGH gear.
 AND IT shook so.
 THAT IT shook the cigar.
 OFF THE desk onto the floor.
 AND WHEN I looked.
 TO SEE what had become of it.

I FOUND it in the cuspidor.
 AND I said things.
 AND A little later.
 SOMEONE HOLLERED.
 FOR ME to go back.
 TO THE press room.
 AND I got in a hurry.
 AND STARTED around the desk.
 AND TRIPPED over the cuspidor.
 AND SPILLED half the water.
 ALL OVER my shoes.
 AND SAID more things.
 AND THIS morning.
 ONE OF my friends.
 FROM VANOSS.
 CAME INTO the office.
 AND SAT down for a while.
 AND WE TALKED about things.
 AND DIRECTLY he looked around.
 AND SAW the cuspidor.
 AND THEN he looked the other way.
 AND SPIT into a corner of the room.
 AND FOR that reason.
 IF THERE'S anyone.
 WHO DESIRES to get it.
 I'LL BE willing.
 TO LET them have it.
 WITHOUT ANY cost.
 I'M tired of the darned thing.
 AND DON'T want it around.
 I THANK you.

GO TO THEATRE

"Oh Daddy."
 (From Ames, Iowa, Tribune)
 The play, "Oh Daddy," put on here Tuesday night was a big affair. It is a wonder to us how such a large show company, with such magnificent costume and other apparel can afford to play such small cities and make it pay. Their many changes of costume in several acts was a pleasing feature to their audience. The company has some of the best actors that travel over this part of the country—they are artists. The Earle sisters are fine, especially "Gladys." The platform managers, Martin Bowers, Wm. W. Colton and Belvah Jane French are stars. The company playing this city a year ago and were so entertaining that on their return visit they met a full house. "Oh Daddy" is in a class by itself.

At the New Liberty.
 Is the truest expression of a man's love for a woman an offer to bestow his name and fortune upon her? It is a question which has caused considerable argument, due to a doubt raised by D. W. Griffith in his latest production, for the screen, in which the hero renounces all effort to win the girl of his choice, that she may go to a man he deems more worthy of her.
 In the production, "The Idol Dancer," which will be the attraction at the Liberty theatre today the renunciation is one of the dramatic thrills of a love story as beautiful and as wild as the South Sea Isle on which the scenes are laid.

At the American.
 Norma Talmadge, the beautiful select star, will be presented by Joseph M. Schenck in her latest Select Picture, "The Forbidden City" at the American, theatre today. This is a Chinese story by George Scarborough. The scenario is by Mary Murillo and it was directed by Sydney A. Franklin.

The story begins when Wong Li, a Chinese mandarin, learns that his beautiful daughter, San San, has married secretly to John Worden, a young officer attached to the American consulate. He spirits San San away during her husband's absence, and Worden is never again able to find her. As Wong Li has been in disfavour at the royal court, he offers San San to the emperor. The emperor accepts his daughter, but when he learns that San San has given birth to a half-American baby girl he orders both Wong Li and San San killed. They baby Toy, is saved.

Later, in life, after Toy has grown to beautiful womanhood, she makes her escape to Manila, where she becomes a Red Cross nurse. Here she meets and falls in love with Lieut. Philip Halbert. The two plan to marry. But when the governor, John Worden, learns that Halbert is about to marry a Chinese girl, he sends him away on a distant mission. In the meantime the governor becomes seriously ill. Toy is his nurse, and as she partly recovers he finds out that she is the daughter of his Chinese wife. Then Halbert returns and the governor gives his consent for their wedding which is celebrated at his bedside.

Their Medicine Chest For 20 Years

IT is characteristic of folks after they pass the allotted "three score years and ten," to look back over the days that are gone and thoughtfully live them over.

I find myself, at seventy-one, frequently drifting back a quarter of a century, when I see myself in the little drug store I owned at Bolivar, Mo., making and selling a vegetable compound to my friends and customers—what was then known only as Dr. Lewis' Medicine for Stomach, Liver and Bowel Complaints.

For many years while I was perfecting my formula I studied and investigated the laxatives and cathartics on the market and became convinced that their main fault was not that they did not act on the bowels, but that their action was too violent and drastic, and upset the system of the user; which was due to the fact that they were not thorough enough in their action, some simply acting on the upper or small intestines, while others would act only on the lower or large intestines, and that they almost invariably produced a habit requiring augmented doses.

I believed that a preparation to produce the best effect must first tone the liver, then act on the stomach and entire alimentary system. If this was accomplished, the medicine would produce a mild, but thorough elimination of the waste without the usual sickening sensations, and make the user feel better at once.

After experimenting with hundreds of different compounds, I at last perfected the formula that is now known as Nature's Remedy, which I truly believe goes further REMEMBER to ask your grocer for Calumet Baking Powder and be sure that you get it—the Indian head on the orange label. Then forget about bake day failures. For you will never have any. Calumet always produces the sweetest and most palatable foods. And now remember, you always use less than of most other brands because it possesses greater leavening strength.

Now Remember—Always Use

CALUMET BAKING POWDER

There is no waste. If a recipe calls for one egg—two cups of flour—half a cup of milk—that's all you use. You never have to re-bake.

Contains only such ingredients as have been officially approved by U. S. Food Authorities, is the product of the largest, most modern and sanitary Baking Powder Factories in existence.

Pound can of Calumet contains full 16 oz. Some baking powders come in 12 oz. instead of 16 oz. cans. Be sure you get a pound when you want it.

Calumet Columbia Muffin

Recipe—4 cups sifted flour, 4 level teaspoons Calumet Baking Powder, 1 tablespoon sugar, 1 teaspoon salt, 2 eggs, 2 cups of sweet milk. Then mix in the regular way.

Sure enough, the old bus went back on me

IT WAS a whale.
 OF A hill, and the old bus.
 GROANED AND shuddered.
 AND FINALLY stalled.
 AND YOU could fry eggs.
 ON THE radiator.
 WELL, WHAT I know.
 ABOUT BUZZ wagons.
 COULD BE written big.
 ON A postage stamp.
 BUT I fiddled around.
 AND TORE my new shirt.
 AND GOT all smeared up.
 THE ENGINE would start.
 BUT LIZZIE wouldn't.
 NOT ON that hill.
 SO I quit and lit up.
 ONE OF my cigarettes.
 AND THOUGHT it over.
 THEN I had a hunch.
 PUSHED HER around.
 PULLED A thing-a-ma-jig.
 AND THE blame boat.
 BACKED UP the hill.
 WITHOUT EVEN hesitating.
 SO I learned a trick.
 WHICH EVERY driver.
 SHOULD REMEMBER.
 WHEN IN doubt, light up.

National Guard Unit for Ada to Be Completed

An effort is being made to instill new life into the National Guard organization which was organized for this city some two months ago. E. C. Penney is captain of the unit, which now has but eight members. The membership must be brought up to fifty before the members can be sworn in and made a part of the authorized National Guard.

Several men have expressed the willingness to join, and a meeting will be held at the city hall Thursday evening, November 18, at 7:30 p. m., for the purpose of explaining the duties and advantages of members to those who are interested or wish to join.

It has been stated by those informed on the subject that the conditions of service are by no means hard, that the service need not interfere with the ordinary affairs of business, that the training received is very beneficial to the members and that the emoluments are good.

Men are taken between the ages of 18 and 45 years and several officers and good salaried workmen are to be chosen from the membership, when the organization is complete.

Historic American Flag On Display At Ada Normal

The Ada Normal is in possession of an American flag which waved over the capital building at Washington during an important epoch of American history. This flag was presented to the Normal by Tom D. McKeown, who served this district in congress when that history was in the making.

This flag floated over the dome of the capital building when congress convened in special session April 2, 1917. It was at this time that Miss Jennette Rankin, of Montana, qualified for membership in congress, being the first woman to serve in that body; four days later, April 6, congress declared that a state of war existed between the United States and Germany; on April 28, congress passed the selective draft bill, and on July 7 the Senate passed an amendment to the food bill prohibiting the manufacture and importation of whiskey during the war. The flag was presented to the Normal by Mr. McKeown March 6, 1919, and is very highly prized by those connected with the school.

There is also a large list of other interesting articles at the Normal most of which have been collected and arranged by Prof. E. A. MacMillan and presented to the school.

One of the most important of these, one which attracts the attention of every one who visits the school is a collection of autographed photographs of the foremost persons of the world, kings and queens, statesmen and soldiers, philosophers and artists of almost every nationality, whose names and deeds have been the subject of discussion in every land during the last two years. It is perhaps the greatest collection of its kind in the United States. Mr. MacMillan has been two years assembling the photographs, and the collection is not complete yet.

The main feature connected with the pictures is the fact that each one comes direct from the party whose likeness it is and bears the personal signature of that person, and accompanying most of them was a personal letter addressed to Mr. MacMillan, and he is equally as proud of the letters as he is of the photographs.

The queen of Serbia in a letter accompanying her picture said that her highness expected to visit the United States within the next two years and stated that when she came to this country she would visit the city of Ada. Mr. MacMillan answered this letter promptly and told the queen how delighted the people of Ada and of the state would be to have her come. When she reaches the United States he will remind her of her promise, and no doubt she will keep her promise.

The ten photographs of prominent Germans includes a picture of General von Hutier, who commanded the troops which opposed the 36th and 90th divisions so stubbornly during the world war. Many Oklahoma boys fought with these two divisions.

The list includes 40 photographs of famous men of England and her possessions; 15 of France, 5 of Italy, 7 of Belgium, 1 of Austria, 10 of Germany, 1 of Serbia, 1 of Greece, 1 of Brazil, 2 of Cuba, 1 of Finland, 4 of Mexico, 1 of Poland, 2 of Roumania, 1 of Luxemburg, and 25 publicists and statesmen of various other parts of the world. America is well represented in the group of 40 military officers none below the rank of general, 10 naval officers none below admiral, and 24 war governors, and a number of other statesmen and prominent men.

Another interesting thing is the collection of postage stamps from different nations of the earth, many of the designs being very curious indeed.

While Mr. MacMillan is proud of all of these pictures of kings and queens and statesmen, of their personal letters and their autographs, the one thing of which he is supremely proud is the collection of 225 pictures of the 418 normal boys who served their country in the war. Some of the faces will never be seen on earth again, having entered the peaceful house of death through the door of patriotic service.

A large number of stuffed and mounted creatures are also on display. Sea, air, mountain and plain have rendered up their dead and they return the visitors gaze from sightless eyes which stare but do not see. Many of the creatures are native to the plains and hills of Oklahoma and some are relics of a race fast fading from the earth.

Many curios which have been picked up here and there from the four corners of the earth may also be seen. This collection includes four hymn books written in the Cherokee, Choctaw, Chickasaw and Delaware Indian languages.

One of the things of which Mr. MacMillan is very proud and which the future will esteem is the first copy of the Ada Evening News to be run from the News press on November 12, 1918, announcing that the armistice had been signed. Mr. MacMillan was on hand when the first paper was printed and retained it to be handed down to future generations with the other archives of the Normal.

The great problem of the nations is to save Russia without letting the other fellow get more than his share of the profit on the deal.

Doctor Cupid

That love sometimes cures disease is a fact that has been called to the attention of the public by a prominent physician. Love is not, however, the cure for all women. Many a woman is nervous and irritable, feels dragged down and worn out for no reason that she can think of.

Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription gives new life and new strength to weak, worn-out, run-down women. "Favorite Prescription" makes weak women strong and sick women well. It is now sold by all druggists in the United States in tablets as well as in liquid form.

EVANT, TEXAS.—"I have used Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I was run-down and suffered from functional disturbances but 'Favorite Prescription' regulated me. I was so nervous I was miserable and could not sleep at night when I began to use the 'Prescription.' I had not taken a whole bottle until I could sleep well and get as stout as I ever was. I keep a bottle of 'Prescription' on hand and when I work and get tired I take a dose and it strengthens my nerves."—MRS. GEORGIA DEMERIS BERRY

A Demonstration of Practical Economy that Concerns Every Housewife in America

Two pounds of Mazola fried 208
Doughnuts—2 pounds of
Lard fried only 138

MRS. A. Louise Andrea—awarded the gold medal at the Panama-Pacific Exposition as lecturer on food and culinary topics—in a comparative test recently fried 208 doughnuts in 2 lbs. of Mazola, while only 138 could be fried in the same amount of lard.

At the same time this expert fried 24½ lbs. of potatoes in 2 lbs. of Mazola, as against 7 lbs. 14 oz. fried in 2 lbs. of lard.

Also, she fried 25¾ lbs. of fish steak, cut to a uniform thickness of one inch, in two lbs. of Mazola. Two lbs. of lard fried only 16½ lbs.

Equal to Butter at Half the Price—Better than Lard

This means that Mazola is from twice to more than three times more economical to use than lard, on the basis of actual accomplishment.

In each test, 4 lbs. each of Mazola and lard were fried down to 2 lbs.

This confirms the experience of the seven million housewives who already use Mazola, the Great American Cooking Oil.

Mazola is a 100% pure vegetable fat. There is no loss from evaporation, nor loss of bulk from heating. It remains sweet and clean, and can be used over and over again—merely strain it.

Quality and Economy—a Problem Solved

The wonderful economy and high quality of Mazola teach a lesson that no thrifty housewife can ignore. Not only will the cost of cooking the daily meals be cheaper, but the food more delicious and digestible.

Mazola is sold at all good grocers in pint, quart, half-gallon and full gallon cans.

Once you try Mazola for Salads you will prefer it to the finest imported olive oils. The price of Mazola is about half that of olive oil. No customs duty—no ocean freight charges on Mazola.

"God is love; and he that dwelleth in love dwelleth in God, and God in him."—1 John 4-16.

THE BIRTHDAY OF OKLAHOMA

Thirteen years today a new star was stamped upon the nation's flag and Oklahoma entered the Union as the forty sixth state. Thirteen years ago today most of us were celebrating our deliverance from "territorial bondage" and our entrance into the Promised Land of Statehood.

Miracles have been wrought in these thirteen years since I. T. and O. T. were blended into the common name of Oklahoma. Not all of our citizens, by any sort of means, appreciate the wonderful things that have been accomplished since we first assumed the duties and burdens of statehood. Yet a perusal of our history shows that in thirteen years the people of this virgin commonwealth have written one of the epics of American history.

We found hundreds of thousands of unlettered children without the benefits of educational facilities. In the wilderness of a new-born state we established and are maintaining one of the best free school systems in America.

We found the teachers of the two territories lacking adequate facilities to prepare themselves for thorough school work or to improve themselves in their profession. We have given them a system of higher institutions of learning that equal the best of our age.

We found the orphans of the state without a home or hope or refuge. We have established and are maintaining two exceptionally good homes for orphan children. From this general scheme of mercy we did not exclude the negro orphans, but are maintaining over at Taft an orphan's home for colored children.

We found the deaf and blind of the two territories shut off from every opportunity. We opened the door of hope to them and are maintaining splendid institutions for their education and development.

We found the feeble minded child forgotten by the powers that had governed the two territories. We built them and are daily rescuing their darkened lives from the wreck that had so long surrounded them.

We found no provision made for the unfortunate insane of Oklahoma. We have taken care of them and are maintaining four institutions for their care and comfort.

We found our prisoners rotting in the mines at Lansing, Kansas, forgotten by every eye and touch of mercy. We brought them back to Oklahoma and placed them in one of the most modern and humane penal institutions in America.

The chapter is too long to be published here. It contains a story of things done in behalf of humanity that reads like the most highly colored fiction. It is sufficiently inspiring to make every Oklahoman proud of his state and proud that he is an Oklahoman. It should make thousands of our people quit claiming to be Texans over the line or Kansans over the line and begin acknowledging that they are now OKLAHOMANS.

Quit worrying about France—you are simply wasting time and nervous energy. The French people, who were "decadent" before the war and were "bled white" during the war, are busy reviving the land that was killed in battle. Of the seven million acres of land rendered unfit for cultivation by the drumfire of invading armies, only 280,000 acres will be unfit for cultivation next Spring. Four million of those acres were under cultivation during 1920 so quit worrying about France. It is probable that her people will have recovered from the ravages of war a long time before the United States recovers from its effects.

We are in recent receipt of a most earnest exhortation to join the forces mobilized for the destruction of tobacco and to assist in every possible way (financially preferred) to drive tobacco forever from the world. We are heartily in favor of the proposed program and have about decided to lay away our official and business cares and devote the remainder of our young and tender life to unrelenting war on the fruits of the weed. In our brief and bizarre pilgrimage hitherto we have observed a goodly number of misguided Americans who derive considerable comfort from the weed. Such enjoyment is not to be tolerated in this day of salvation by statute. No one has any right to enjoy anything at any time or any place. Enjoyment must be driven from this old world, even as Satan in the days of Milton's imagination was exiled from Heaven. We are more than ready to join hands with that host of professional reformers who have dedicated their acidulous lives to the holy task of making this earth as much like hell as possible.

MEXICO, REFORMED, GOES A-WOOING

All City Debts Are Paid When They Fall Due

"The final payment has just been made which wipes out the bonded indebtedness of Main street paving district No. 2, and this final payment has been made only two months after the debt came due."

The above statement was made by City Commissioner Jones who is justly proud of the fact that Ada ranks with the foremost cities of the state in the payment of her obligations.

This is not a newly established reputation but is one which the city has enjoyed for several years. Only last year the same thing was done when the bonds against 12th street paving district were retired with only a few weeks delay.

At that time the commissioners received a very nice letter from Spitzer, Rorick & Co., the company which handled the bonds, explaining that the promptness of the city of Ada in meeting its obligations was exceptional, as most other cities the size of Ada usually let such matters drag, and were as a general thing paid only after considerable punting and rawhiding.

If this policy continues on the part of the city, as no doubt it will, the results will be far reaching and will be the source of added civic pride, and will be appreciated by every public spirited citizen within its limits.

CARTER TO CONTINUE FIGHT AGAINST LEVY

Oklahoma City, Nov. 16.—Frank C. Carter, state auditor, today announced that unless the state board of equalization rescinds the one and a half mill state tax levy, which was recently certified by the board, he would take the matter up before the state legislature in an effort to have the levy get aside.

In announcing his intention to press the fight on the levy, Mr. Carter declared that at the end of this fiscal year the state would have funds in the amount of four million dollars and that the state does not need the additional levy to meet all legal requirements.

The state board of equalization meets November 23rd, when action in regard to the levy may be taken.

Take Out That Ad Says An Ada Woman On Phone

"Hello! is that the Evening News office?"

"Well say I want you to take that ad of mine out of the paper, the one about having quilts to sell."

"Yes I know I told you to run it a week, but I had no idea that so many people read the News ads. I started that ad yesterday, and even before the news boy got here with our copy of the Evening News folks were calling me on the phone about those quilts, and they have just aggravated the life out of me ever since. Not only in the daytime do they enquire but far into the night. I could have sold a carload of quilts had I been in a position to furnish all who enquired for one."

The above is a true reproduction of one side of a phone conversation which took place this morning between a News representative and Mrs. H. J. Brown, and is self-explanatory.

Yes, it really pays to advertise in the Evening News.

WRANGLER'S FORCES FLEE ON SHIPS

By the Associated Press

LONDON, Nov. 16.—General Wrangel, head of the south Russian government, whose army has been virtually wiped out by the Bolshevik offensive in Crimea, left Sebastopol on a Russian cruiser filled with soldiers, says a Constantinople dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph company. The cruiser was accompanied by three transports carrying 20,000 troops and another carrying wounded men, the fleet sailing for an unknown port. The Russian forces had not reached Sebastopol before the city was evacuated. The United States destroyers Whipple and Edwards arrived at Constantinople with refugees yesterday.

and hundreds of thousands of pupils have been enrolled in school. We have increased our number of teachers from 8,000 to 16,000 an increase of 100 percent. But in spite of all our efforts and successes we still rank thirty-sixth in education among the states of the Union. While the last thirteen years have been important ones the next thirteen will also be important.

The speaker warmly praised the Ada Normal as well as the local high school whose teachers and pupils heard the address of the state superintendent. The Treble Clef club of the normal sang a beautiful number that was received with much favor.

A. H. Burris of Holdenville, superintendent of city schools at Holdenville and member of the state board of education, was present and made a few remarks. He paid compliment to the new president, Mr. Linscheid, and predicted a bright future for the normal under his management. He also stated that the state board is doing everything it possibly can to advance the interests of the normal

FARMERS PLAN TO ELIMINATE MIDDLEMAN

By the Associated Press

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 16.—Establishment and expansion of co-operative sales agencies to eliminate the middlemen in the handling of farm products, was one of the principal subjects on the program of the convention of the national farmers union, which opened here today. Delegates from twenty-eight states were present. The organization, according to delegates, directs a co-operative farm business aggregating five hundred million dollars annually and represents more than eighty-thousand farmers.

IN SOCIETY

Be Courageous.
Tho, dark clouds may o're you gather,
And dispell with gloom your view,
While, your heart may dwell in sadness,
And find nothing fond to do;
Do not falter, for the morrow,
Holds some worthy, hidden deed,
And you'll find perchance a brother,
Faithful with the half you need.

Courage, then; to help inspire you.
And a will that never sways,
Breaking cloud and gloom asunder,
Dispelling sadness from your days,
And from where you once in darkness

Saw your pathway dimly wind;
Fleeting like a dove, your vision,
Comes again, faith's light to find.

"'Twas a 'camouflage' of Satan
Mingling wrong, to cloud the sight;
Then, breaking through the clouds,
God sends us
Sunshine to blast the cloud of night.
From each tear-drop, from each heartache,
From the yearnings and the pain,
Blooms a flower for every longing,
'Spite the cloud that brings the rain.

DISTRICT CONVENTION OF CHRISTIAN CHURCHES

The district convention of the Christian churches of the Fifth District opened this morning with delegates from many places in the district. There was a fine devotional and fellowship meeting held this forenoon. Then the ladies of the church served a fine luncheon, which was followed immediately with a conference on the work of the women's missionary societies of the district.

Some very interesting facts were brought out at this conference, which was interestingly conducted by Miss Wilma Wickizer, of Enid, state secretary.

There will be many helpful things in the meeting this afternoon. From five to seven an Endeavor lunch-

Art Treasures To Be At Normal November 26-27

Lovers of art will have an opportunity to see the oil painting of leading western artists which will be on display at the Normal Friday and Saturday, November 26 and 27.

The art department at the Normal has arranged with the American Art Federation to furnish the paintings, and if sufficient interest is taken in the display by citizens of Ada this exhibition will be the fore-runner of many other similar displays.

Many of the artists whose paintings will be shown here are now exhibiting their productions in the large European art galleries and rank with the foremost productions of the eastern artists of today.

Clubs have been formed in many of the cities of the United States which co-operate with the American Art Federation in carrying these treasures to the people of cities where no art museum is maintained, and if sufficient interest is taken in the matter here a club will be formed similar to the clubs now existing in Oklahoma City, Norman and various other cities of the state where these displays are frequent and delightful visitors.

The art display will be free to everyone. The small expense connected with its arrangement will be defrayed from the receipts from an entertainment which will be given at the Normal Wednesday evening November 17, 7:30 p. m. This entertainment will consist of two original plays which will be given by the seventh and eighth grade pupils of the training school. Also a playlet by Miss Adams' expression class and several selections by the treble cleft quartet will help to entertain the crowd. All of the selections to be given have already been given in the chapel service and are highly entertaining and will be a real treat for the audience.

MAXWELL IS VISITED BY CONFLAGRATION

Maxwell was visited by a destructive fire Monday and property valued at almost $10,000 was destroyed. The property wiped out in the conflagration was the store, residence, barn and feed stuff of G. C. Bond, merchant at Maxwell.

The fire was discovered about 2 o'clock this morning, but had made such headway when discovered that it was impossible to save any of the buildings or contents. The combined store building and residence of Mr. Bond, as well as his barn, was a complete loss. The stock of goods and a considerable quantity of feed was destroyed.

The loss sustained by Mr. Bond is estimated as follows: store and residence, $3,000; goods $3,800; barn $700; feed $800. The buildings and goods were insured in the total sum of $4,000. The insurance was written by Ebey, Suggs & company of Ada.

It is generally believed at Maxwell that the fire was the work of an incendiary. The officers of the county are looking into the matter.

Webb Book Shop Will Start Free Scout Library

The Webb Book Shop has started a library for the benefit of the Boy Scouts of Ada. It is to be free for all boys donating books to it and will serve as a medium by which the scouts will be able to exchange their books. If a scout in Ada has a book or a number of books that he has read and does not care about, he should take it to the Webb Book Shop to be placed in the Boy Scout library. This will give other boys a chance to read it and will give him a chance to read other books. If there are any people of Ada who have books, that would be of interest to boys, and that would like to donate them to the library, the scouts would appreciate their doing so very much. Any one wishing to do this will find the particulars from the Webb Book Shop. Scouts will be given a cordial welcome at this place.

WOULD HAVE ALL MALES EXAMINED BEFORE MARRIAGE

State Health Officer To Seek Eugenics Legislation.

OKLAHOMA CITY.—Of much interest in the coming legislation to be introduced and submitted to the next session of the state legislature for enactment or rejection, are the recommendations of Dr. A. N. Lewis, state health commissioner, who proposes to create a compulsory physical examination statute to the state constitution for all persons publically handling foods and drinks, and all males who contemplate marriage.

An amendment embodying such examinations will be introduced before the legislature when it convenes January 2. Dr. Lewis has announced, and evidence purporting to show why such a compulsory examination should be made for the safeguard of public health will be offered both in the concrete and in writing, he said.

A law to this effect is a preventive necessity, Dr. Lewis declares, especially so as it affects attendants in public eating places and at drinking fountains. Investigation has shown, he sets out, that many of the cooks and dishwashers in the state are suffering from social diseases, particularly so in the colored element. Investigation has also shown, he says, that many of such attendants are afflicted with tuberculosis and that no precautionary measures are taken to combat the disease or to prevent spread of the disease through the handling of foods and drinks.

Dr. Lewis' legislation affecting prospective bridegrooms includes a clause that would seek to force such an applicant to give thirty-days notice of his intention to secure a marriage license, and that lapse of thirty days should pass after such notification in order that complaint could be filed against such a marriage if anyone believed it a hindrance to public health. The male would also be subject to stringent physical examination by the county health officer or some reputable physician, and the female would be required to submit a certificate signed under oath that she was fit so far as disease is concerned, to become a wife. To insure strict observance of his recommendations, if such a law is passed, Dr. Lewis urges that sufficient penalty for disobedience be attached to force the violator to comply with state requirements.

Fire Threatens the Palm Garden and Hardware Store

Fire originating from a defective flue caused a slight damage to the ceiling in the Palm Garden confectionery last night. In their efforts to check the flames, the fire fighters caused a short circuit in the electrical wiring of Coffman, Bobbitt and Sparks' hardware store next door, and fire broke out in that place. It was soon extinguished, however, with but little damage. Smoke in the Palm Garden attracted attention to the fire between the ceiling and roof, and a force of emergency firemen were soon on the roof. They chopped their way to the seat of the fire and succeeded in quickly putting it out.

Smoke was noticed shortly afterwards coming from the hardware store, and the firemen were again summoned. The current was shut off and the flames put out, but not until damage had been done to some of the shelf goods and to the ceiling and roof.

SALVATION ARMY SERVES EVERYONE

Finds Homes for Girls, and Salvages Downtrodden Manhood.

The question is often asked, "Does the Salvation Army serve every community?" It most surely does. The girl who leaves her country or small town home and goes to the big city does not always find a job, but she can always find the Salvation Army which annually finds jobs for thousands of girls. In many cities, including Oklahoma City, the Army provides well-equipped, modern homes where large numbers of girls live together, with the best of accommodations, at rates last year averaging less than $6.50 a week.

The same is true of the boy who goes to the city and finds himself in desperate straits through over-indulgence, carelessness, or betrayal. Perhaps he is on the verge of self-destruction. He can find a real refuge at a Salvation Army industrial home or hotel, where his difficulties are smoothed over, his confidence restored, a job found for him, and a young life that was near shipwreck saved to a life of usefulness. True, these boys and girls might better have stayed at home, but the lure of the city tempts thousands away from home, many of whom would be lost were it not for the uplifting hand of the Salvation Army lassies and institutions. Yet they still are our own, some mother's child, and the Salvation Army is performing a service for us when it cares for them.

These boys and girls are red-blooded Americans of whom our future citizenship must be composed. The children of unfortunate, betrayed mothers are likewise of our future citizenry. The Salvation Army is functioning for us. It is giving modestly a steady, systematic, kindly service to countless thousands of our boys and girls. If it is your son, your daughter, your sister, your brother, is it worth while? Who knows? Perchance they may serve us some day? They do not ask a nickel for themselves. They ask millions in this country for others. Shall they be denied? It rests with us. Their future and the future of our citizenship is placed in our hands. The people of Ada are asked to contribute not to the Salvation Army in reality but to help raise a fund to be administered by the Salvation Army in caring for our own. The amount asked of this county is but $2500, a comparatively small sum, but that is perhaps because the Salvation Army has always managed to get one hundred cents of value out of every dollar expended.

Here's Inside Dope of Zero Period in Newspaper Office

There are times in life's checker game when trying to get out a newsy paper nothing happening is hard luck and nothing else. No storms, no wrecks, no weddings—no nothing or anything that makes news.

The news hounds on the Ada Evening News always take such periods of depression to heart. You will see them sitting around, the typewriters idle, lost looks on their faces. They leave the office filled with hope, loaded for bear. You can tell by one look how the wind is blowing when they come back. Commenting on these zero periods, one exchange says that a young woman who was going to be operated on, promised to wait until just before press time to have the cutting done in order that the paper might have a "scoop" on her demise in the event of the operation's failure.

"She hasn't gone to the hospital yet," wails the editor.

The bunch had heard of a big robbery and hold-up with all of its trimmings, and it proved to be a water haul. Small child hit by auto—it wasn't even scratched. Woman thrashed by her husband—he hadn't been home for a week. A cyclone stood with its tongue hanging out for thirty minutes Saturday, and nothing to tell about that. A long article had been prepared on the drought and along came a refreshing rain and spoiled it all.

"We can't tell it," the writer concludes, "if it doesn't happen."

The Aimless Wanderings of The News' City Editor

By the Cub.

The other day as I had nothing else to do I decided to follow the city editor on his rounds and pick up some pointers on how to get the news. To begin with I will tell you that city editors are not supposed to do much outside work, but this particular guy seems to find plenty to do on the outside when there is anything to do on the inside. So, as I have given you the lay out, I will now begin my story which starts at the office and ends up there after covering almost every block of business houses in the city.

The city ed. left the office about eight-thirty and started south on Broadway. He landed in the city court room where the mayor was trying a case and as I was again he would see me I waited around the corner until he came out. This he did after a few minutes and he had a pleasant smile on his face which I translated like this: In the court room he had heard another dirty case about some couple con- sorting or something along that line and was thinking about what a big article he could make it. From there he strolled west down Twelfth and stopped at the post-office. There he met two young ladies and talked to them for several minutes. I waited behind one of the big brick pillars in front of the Colonade and watched him. All during the conversation he would step backward and forward and from one side to the other like a restless bear.

I saw the boss coming about that time and decided that I had better make myself scarce so I beat it down the street, wondering what would happen when the boss found that guy talking to the ladies. I next picked him up in front of Mrs. Land's. It was all most noon then and he was entering there for a cup of hot chocolate and to get out of the intense cold. As it happened, a couple of my friends came along then and I passed the time away talking to them. After a time he came out with his head held high and I proceeded to hide myself behind the corner. I followed as close behind him as I dared and when I reached the corner of Main and Broadway he was turning west down Twelfth again. I followed him until he came out on Main by the McSwain theatre. He stood around there looking at the pictures and admiring the latest movie actresses to come out into the limelight and smiling at the young ladies who chanced to pass.

I was again interrupted by the appearance of another friend, this time a lady, who was determined that I should accompany her down to the Frisco where a friend of hers was coming in. After I had disposed of that piece of business I again sought the city ed. and found him in front of Gwin & Mays drug store. As I detected him he started up the stairway for the hospital where he would interview the sick folks. I hid in a car until he got through up there and when he came down he had a frown on his ugly mug. Guess the doctor told him a few things. He made it up the street until he came to a well known dry goods store, which I will refrain from mentioning as it is a nice place and I don't want to connect anything bad with it and its owners, where he stopped and talked a long while to a pretty young lady, who seemed to be bored by his presence. Finally he looked at the clock and started for the door. He headed for the office and when I reached it, there he was standing in front of the stove, crowding everybody out, warming his hand like he had been out in the cold and was about frozen. He looked at me and when I had got my wraps off and had seated myself at this machine, he called me and told me to come over where he was. I did this and when I stood before him he said, "have you anything big, something important, or have you anything at all?" as if he would be surprised to learn that I had found anything. Well, I had picked up a couple of big stories and of course, like a fool cub, I told him everything. He took a few notes and dismissed me with, "I think you had better get out and get something as it is getting late and we have got to turn in some copy."

I had not told him quite everything and so I sat down at the machine and proceeded to write it up in first class style. He bustled himself with writing up my stories and when that was finished he played with the grapevine and other minor subjects. When the paper was out that afternoon he smiled broadly and held out the paper, showing us what a fine showing he had in the day's paper. It consisted of two big stories, the two he took from me, a long dirty article, the one he got at the courthouse, and one about the hospital. These were a few others about the dogs on Main street and Prof. Ichabod and some other rot. He smiled down on me like one would on a fellow who could not do anything, and his countenance seemed to say, "I am some man, I am."

This is not all he is guilty of because just this week I caught him talking to some crooked looking guys and I also saw him with the officers down the street. He comes in the office and crows over the rest of us like a king would over his subjects and tries to make us call him "sweet papa". He gives me all of the crazy assignments and on a real bad day he stays in the office and sends the others out for the news and then raises hell—if there is not news in the paper that afternoon. If the boss says anything to him about the way he does things, he will point to me and say THAT is to blame, and you see I get the devil. My life is a dog's life anyway. I thank you.

P. S.—I'm slipping this in unbeknown to him, the little shrimp. Sic 'em semper tyrannis!
